

Trend: Bullish

Technical Score: 70/100

Entry Point: Buy on a breakout from the current range (204.65, 209.50) with a stop loss at 200.00.

Stop Loss:  $200.00

Target Price:  $220.00

Risk/Reward:  1:1.10

Bull Case

- Price is trading above both the 20-day and 50-day moving averages, indicating an uptrend.
- Relative Strength Index (RSI) is in the neutral zone but rising, suggesting a potential bullish reversal.
- On balance volume has been positive for the past few weeks, supporting the upward price momentum.

Bear Case

- The stock is trading below its 52-week high of $236.26 but close to its 52-week high of $164.08.
- Momentum indicators like MACD and RSI are flatlining, indicating a loss of upside momentum.
- If price breaks down from the current range (204.65, 209.50), it could signal a trend reversal.

Analyst Summary

NVDA looks good for a swing trade entry based on the bullish setup. However, monitor volume and momentum closely to manage risk. Don't let emotions influence your decisions - stay disciplined and respect your stop loss.
